My Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy describes the information collected by Irene Budischowsky through my apps and website and how it's used.

My app. Your business.

I believe in the importance of privacy - especially when it comes to kids. We don't require you to provide any personal information when you download my apps, and I don't collect any information from their use.

I care about kids.

My website and mobile applications comply with the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act. I do not knowingly collect any personal information from children under the age of 13. If a user is identified as a child under the age of 13 through a support request, I will not collect, store or use such personal information, and any personal information that has been provided will be deleted.

You've got my support.

If you submit a support request, I may receive your email address and other support information that you provide related to your support request. This information will only be used to provide you with the support you requested. It's your information. I'll keep it that way. I don't rent, sell or share your email address.

Cookies

When you visit my website, I may send cookies to your computer that uniquely identify your browser. Most browsers allow you to disable cookies or set your browser to alert you when cookies are being sent to your computer.

Links to third-party sites

I may provide links and/or connections to third-party websites or services from my website. I am not responsible for the privacy practices or content of these third-party sites.

Changes to this Privacy Policy

I may amend this Privacy Policy from time to time.

Contact Me

If you have any questions or concerns regarding this Privacy Policy, please send me an email.
